JANUARY NEWS

Tom & Monica with Blondie & Goldie Stall #68 & 69

I am so sorry for the delay in the newsletter. Computer crashed and I am back up and running. I really hope everyone had a great Holiday season and enjoyed time with their loved ones, including our loved ones at the barn. I was so nice to see all the college students come back home and ride their horses. How great life is.

DR. STITCH CHIROPRACTIC

It is amazing the amount of horses getting chiropractic adjustments at our facility. Dr. Stitch is scheduled for the 19th of January and February 3rd for those of you interested in an appointment, please contact Melissa Piennett at mbpiennett@cox.net for openings.

SCHOOLING SHOWS

It is a new year and we are on our way to a great show season. A new Masters division has been added this year. This division is for adults and a 2' height. We scheduled it for Sunday because of the length of time our Saturday's take. Depending on the demand will determine whether we do this division in our next show so please participate if you can.

ENTRANCE DOORS

It's been really hard to tell that it's winter but it is and I know everyone has been telling everyone to go through the doors instead of the garage doors when entering the arena but unfortunately the doors are either breaking do to previous wear and tear and they just don't work right. I need to replace the west door and it is currently closed due to damage. Please enter through the garage doors with your horses. My plans are to replace the east and west doors and install only emergency exit doors instead due to fire code reasons. These doors will no longer be horse entrances only people. If you are not sure what the code is for entering, please ask your trainers for the code. Eventually I will be removing the outside keypads and just installing an open and close button. Sorry for any inconvenience this has caused.

FAN SYSTEM INSTALLED

The new fan systems for the building has been installed. What a difference it has made! Thank you Exteriors Plus (Dennis) for installing them! Our tack is dry in our lockers, the walls are dry and I just can't get over the difference it has done. Somehow if we could do a fundraiser to help pay for the cost and reimburse Exteriors, that would be well worth it. For now, we are all dry and loving it. This system runs off of the humidity level in the barn. It is currently set for 80% on the east side and 70% on the west. This is due to the sun and length of time it has to heat up the roof. The system will run more on the east because the sun only shines on the roof early in the morning.

I hope everyone is working hard on those New Year's resolutions! I'm just trying to accomplish one of many! Enjoy the New Year!
